

Understanding economics and finance

Focus-Money is the only brand for economics and finance with a reach far exceeding that of pure financial publications. Every Wednesday, the magazine presents well-founded, highly useful facts and background information on topics such as economics, politics, companies, finance, taxes, law, investments, insurance, telecommunications, cars and careers. It covers fascinating market and product trends as well as providing indispensable information for managing professional and personal finances. The print magazine is complemented by the website, e-paper, social media and events.
